the dr bob cryingtheblues apologetic christmas message:

well folks, we're way over the 300 mark this year, more than ever before, and only 24 hours to draw, print, stuff and multiple stick and lick them all. (less time, later, than ever before.) sure, many of you deserve a personally directed, individually tailored heartfelt message.

but since when do we get what we deserve?

in memory of uli
who ran out of time
this year
