

Congratulations on your graduation!

I drew this 40 years ago when I graduated from high school, and now thanks to the modern digital age I can share it with you on your graduation. [My art co-editor of the yearbook decided to share it with himself at the time.]

How did 40 years go by so fast?!

Enjoy your next four years and use them wisely to launch the rest of your life. We'll be thinking of you along the way, as long as we are here...

Love,
bob and ani
