

What, me sick?

Dear Joyce,

Whenever I need to create a card for some occasion, I browse through my sketchbook archives until I see the right image that sparks my imagination to match a few lines of prose. This is my only GetWell/Soon category image, done 24 years ago or so in Rome - I've since forgotten the inspiration that led to it. Struggling against any long term illness puts a lot of idle time in our hands. I hope you are able to fill yours with things you don't normally get to do. To offer you an extra choice, I send you the product of decades of stolen idle time that led to the What, Me Code? Book and the collected sketchworks of dr bob. All on one CD. No one ever seems to have the time to read my cookbooks and give me feedback. Perhaps you might spend a few moments looking it over. Ani & I are both thinking of you during this period and hoping you keep strong as you persevere your way through it. With affection, bob + Ani
