

2001

fear of flying strikes late in the year (with many unfortunate consequences...*)

This year with the ugliness coming from so many sides of the various -isms that dominate our world, no sound bites will suffice to capture recent sad events in this annual reminder of our connection to each other. But it is worth remembering a quote from the past from one of us ordinary folks who gave his life hoping to make the world a better place...

*Darkness cannot drive out darkness, only light can do that.
Hate cannot drive out hate, only love can do that.
—Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Rockefeller Center in December

Peace
Love
Hope

and our best wishes
ani and bob

Notes:

* not only nearly crippling the airline industry, but many tourist destination economies that depend on airborne American arrivals...

 this quote comes from the Christmas greetings of Witness for Peace, a religious based American organization providing an unfortunately still necessary presence south of our border monitoring US supported violence against impoverished populations.

8-11-01: caught off guard at the WTC

ani and bob in the nearly empty Trump Tower

in memory of those who continue to suffer
around the globe

26-dec-2001: aniandbob@drbobenterprises.com [ani sarkahian / bob jantzen]
dr bob enterprises © 2001 <http://www.drbobenterprises.com> [enhanced web version of card available]